

I don't think it is safe for the use of cell phones to be used on the plane while in flight, for many reason. one of those reason you get these passengers on board with their phones and they will be talking while they should be listening to a Flight Attendant instuctions. That is just one of many. I am very concerned with this matter and I don't think they should be aloud while in flight. Thank you, and as a flight attendant I hope and pray that this is reconcidered...
